$3,000,000,000 IS ADDED TO WAGES

In Wilson's Term Over
Preceding Years.

THE DEMOCRATIC TEXT BOOK

So Announces After Comparing
Figures With Four Last Republican Years.

A TENTH MORE WAGE-EARNERS

During the Wilson Administration, it is brought out in the second chapter of the Democratic Campaign Text Book, made public recently, the wage earners of the country received in wages over $3,000,000,000 more than during the four preceding years under a Republican Administration.

These figures, it is explained, are based on a report just completed by the United States Department of Labor, which shows that the average wage increase in the industries has been from 5 per cent. to 20 per cent. during the last four years, and that from 1913 to 1916, during the Wilson Administration, wage earners in United States were paid $17,600,000,000, as against $14,320,000,000 during four years of the Taft Administration.

In reviewing this phase of the campaign, the Text Book says:

"Taking the official data of the United States Department of Labor upon union wages per hour as the basis of computation, you find that the average union wage during the years 1914 and 1915, under Democratic laws and administration, were 10 per cent. higher than the average for six years—1907 to 1912 inclusive—under the Daigley and Payne Tariff Laws and Republican Administration.

"Taking as a basis a tabulation of press announcements of wage increases for 1916, made by the Department of Labor, it is conservative to place the 1916 wage level at 10 per cent. higher than the Republican level of 1907-1912.

"The census of 1910 (based on 1909 data) gave the number of wage earners employed in manufacturing industries only as 6,615,000, and the wages paid $3,427,000,000. It is estimated (on basis of preliminary returns of 1914 census of manufactures) that in 1915 American manufacturers gave employment to 7,800,000 wage earners at wages amounting to $4,407,000,000, or an increase of nearly $1,000,000,000 over 1910.

"It is conservatively estimated that in 1916 American manufacturers employ 10 per cent. more wage earners at 10 per cent. higher average rate of wages per annum than in 1915. This would bring the 1916 volume of wages paid in manufactures only, up to $5,300,000,000, or upward of $1,800,000,000 over the Republican census record of 1910.

"These figures are for wage earners employed in manufacturing industries only. The census of 1910 gave the total number employed in manufacturing and mechanical industries as 10,658,000, in transportation 2,637,000 and in mines 964,824, and in agriculture, forestry and animal husbandry (exclusive of 6,000,000 farmers and other employers) as 6,639,000, making a total industrial army of wage earners of over 20,000,000."

The fact that the total number of wage earners has increased from 6,000,000 in 1912 to 8,500,000 now is also brought out.

Prosperity Here To Stay.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The conclusion drawn from reports tabulated by the Committee on Statistics and Standards of the United States is that a Presidential election or peace in Europe will have little effect upon the general prosperity of the country this year. Chairman A. W. Douglas says no lull in commerce or industry is apparent anywhere.

The building industry, which is regarded as a fair index of the country's prosperity, is in generally excellent shape. Despite the high cost of materials there is no apparent decline in building operations. The statisticians say this indicates an extensive use of materials in almost every commercial business.

The probable winter wheat crop is only 470,000,000 bushels, a decrease of 30 per cent. from the 1915 yield, but only slightly under the average for the last ten years. Corn will run close to 2,800,000,000 bushels, which is about the average for ten years. The decline in the wheat yield is not expected to have a deterrent effect on general conditions.

In at least six States the prospect for tobacco is excellent, despite the injurious effects of storms in North and South Carolina and Virginia. Hay in general is a good crop throughout the country. Cotton has suffered under trying weather conditions and the yield will not be as great as last year, despite the 12 per cent. increase in acreage. Fruit is doing well throughout the country, watermelons from the southeastern counties of Missouri being expected to yield $4,000,000 to the producers.

Though some of the cattle ranges of the Southwest, West and Northwest have needed rain, the prices on livestock are unusually encouraging. Sheep and wool are bringing high prices. Similar reports are made concerning mules, horses, poultry and pork.

STOCKHOLDERS RURAL CREDIT WILL PROTEST

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 19.—It became known to-night that at several places over the State, stockholders of the Kentucky Rural Credit Association, which failed here three weeks ago, will fight attempts of the receiver to collect the amount of stock they subscribed for—a total of over $100,000. Public meetings will be held and a general protest action started. The first of these was at Stanford, Lincoln county, and others will follow.

The stockholders say they are not liable for the stock that is claimed. The par value of the stock was $30, being sold $100 and the extra $50 going to a surplus fund and largely used for promotion expenses, which amounted to about $177,000 in this "million dollar South Sea Island Bubble." The fighting of such collections will prolong the legal tangle of the situation and greatly increase the expenses of winding up the association's affairs.

INCREASED COST FOR NEWSPAPER SERVICE

Washington, Aug. 19.—The newspapers all over the country report to the Federal Trade Commission that unless there is relief from the high cost of news print paper, there will have to be universally increased prices put upon the newspaper service. In many cities of the country prices to subscribers have already been advanced, and in practically all of the cities of the country increase in subscription prices will soon become a vital and unescapable necessity, despite the hesitancy and the unwillingness on the part of newspaper publishers to take such a stand. Despite increase in subscription prices and advertising rates, it will be necessary for newspapers to cut down the size of their papers unless there is relief from excessive cost of raw materials. Already New York and Philadelphia publishers have materially reduced the size of their issues.

TOWN QUITS BUSINESS —TAX NOT SUFFICIENT

Maysville, Ky., Aug. 16.—The little town of Sardis, fourteen miles southwest of this city, has concluded to quit business at the old stand as a municipality. Recently a petition was filed in the Mason Circuit Court here asking that the charter of that place be annulled or dissolved. Several years ago this was a prosperous little town of several hundred inhabitants, supporting a bank, several general stores and blacksmith shops. The bank failed, the big general merchandise store of George W. Dye quit business and the town declined until now the Trustees find it is impossible to get enough tax money to run it as a chartered municipality. Stanley Reed has asked by petition to let the town be wiped out, which will be done at the September term of the Mason Circuit Court.

THE SITUATION IN MAINE VEXED

Republicans Admit the State Doubtful.

PROSPECTS ARE VERY BRIGHT

For Big Democratic Victory In That Rock-Ribbed Republican Stronghold.

G. O. P. BOSSES ARE IN TANGLE

New York, Aug. 19.—In announcing the result of a painstaking canvass of the political situation in Maine, made by James C. White, one of the best known political writers of New England, the Boston Herald (Republican), which is conducting an earnest campaign in behalf of Mr. Hughes, makes the admission that "the present indications are that the Democrats will administer a smashing defeat to the Republicans at the September State Election."

Summarizing the result of his investigations, Mr. White, who is referred to editorially to-day in the Boston Herald as "our seasoned political correspondent," says: "The handwriting is plain upon the wall and it is spelling defeat. And it is going to be a defeat all the more aggravating because it is unnecessary for the reason that the Republicans, who should know better, are attempting in a disorganized way to make a vital campaign against a Democratic field composed of Gov. Curtis, Senator Johnson and W. R. Pattanzani, who have made organization their fetish in all campaigns."

The writer describes the Democratic organization in Maine as far superior to that of the Republicans, who, he asserts, lack a real leader. Continuing, he says: "During the past seventy-two hours spent in the State, big and little leaders have been confessing that they are seriously worried over the governorship; that they are dubious about the election of Col. Fred Hale, and that the Hughes movement is not working as well as they hoped."

Referring to the Democratic campaign, he says: "The one unescapable fact is that at a time when the Democrats already have their campaign under way, with a general manager in charge who has already shot one bolt into the Republican campaign with some disastrous effects, the Republicans are still fussing around trying to get started."

"In the headquarters of the Republican National Committee in New York they have no delusions as to the Maine situation. At the time of the Hughes notification in New York it was discussed at some length and feeling was that the Maine Republicans should get busy and do something."

The results of Mr. White's canvass of Maine are being published in dispatches from that State. In the article from which the above quotations are made, the Herald announces that the "Maine G. O. P. must wake up or lose the State."

In editorially commenting upon the disclosures made by Mr. White, the Herald says: "It is difficult to exaggerate the importance of the outcome in Maine. It is a Republican State. Its failure to give a substantial Republican majority in September would throw a chill over the campaign from Portsmouth to San Diego."

These tidings from Maine, following the word from California that Candidate Hughes upon the eve of his Presidential canvass in that State is met face to face with an irreconcilable breach between the Republicans and Progressives at national Republican headquarters.

Big Prices For Old Paper.

New York, Aug. 19.—The paper famine was reflected in an auction sale here of old paper, ordered by David Ferguson, supervisor of the City Record. One lot of 9,000-lbs., composed of unsold copies of the City Record, brought $1.65 per hundred pounds. Another lot of unsold old paper weighed 6,000 pounds, brought $2.60 per hundred. Normally sales of such paper bring from 20 cents to 50 cents a hundred.

WILSON REPLIES TO CONTENTIONS

In the Great Railroad
Strike Question.

A DEFENSE MADE IN RESPONSE

To Appeal From George Pope—
Denies Plan Weakens Arbitration Principles.

SETTLEMENT EXPECTED SOON

Washington, Aug. 20.—President Wilson's work of conferences with ranking officials of the railroads and leaders of their employees threatening a nation-wide strike, are believed by all parties to the controversy to have brought the situation to a point where decisive developments may come within a few days. While the negotiations took no actual forward step to-day the President replied indirectly to contentions of the road officials that the principle of arbitration would be endangered by his plan for putting the eight-hour basic day into effect while a commission investigates its practicability and passes upon other points at issue. In a telegram made public at the White House the President declared he held firmly to arbitration as a principle and that his plan strengthened rather than weakened it. He also said that some means must be found to prevent the existing situation from ever arising again.

Meantime the road officials who have tentatively refused to accept Mr. Wilson's proposal continued conferences among themselves. The labor leaders, who have already approved the proposal, marked time awaiting a definite decision from the employers.

The President's telegram defending his plan was in reply to an appeal from George Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, urging that the principle of arbitration be preserved in the strike negotiations. Mr. Pope's telegram follows:

"Hartford, Conn.—The President, White House.—On behalf of 3,700 manufacturing organizations, employing 3,000,000 persons, and utterly dependent upon uninterrupted railroad service for their continued operation, I beg to at once express our deep appreciation of your efforts to prevent the threatened destructive stoppage of national railway service, and to respectfully urge that you with all the power of your great office and personality assert and maintain the principle of arbitration for industrial disputes affecting national intercourse. No just demand can fear such a test, no unfair demand can or should survive it. We sincerely believe no man in our history has possessed such an opportunity to fortify this essential principle of public security against future attack by empire."

"GEORGE POPE.
President National Association of Manufacturers."

President's Reply.

The President replied: "Allow me to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of August 18 and to say in reply that I hold to the principle of arbitration with as clear a conviction and as firm a purpose as anyone, but that, unfortunately, there is no means now in existence by which arbitration can be secured. The existing means have been tried and have failed. This situation must never be allowed to arise again, but it has arisen. Some means must be found to prevent its recurrence, but no means can be found off-hand or in a hurry or in season to meet the present national emergency. What I am proposing does not weaken or discredit the principle of arbitration. It strengthens it, rather. It proposes that nothing be conceded except the eight-hour day to which the whole economic movement of the time seems to point, and the immediate creation of an agency for determining all the arbitrable elements in this case in the light, not of predictions or forecasts, but of established and ascertained facts. This is the first stage of the direct road to the discovery of the best permanent basis for arbitration when other means than those now available are supplied."

RETURNED TO GET A LUCKIN' LONG PROMISED

Milledgeville, Ga., Aug. 19.—In a Milledgeville street a tall, portly gentleman came up to Professor O. M. Cone, teacher of mathematics in Georgia Military college. The stranger carried a long hickory switch in his hand. He asked if this was Professor Cone, and being answered in the affirmative, said:

"My name, sir, is John Lehman. Forty years ago when you were teaching in the old field school at Island Creek, in Hancock county, my parents, then living in Florida, sent me up to your school. One day you decided that a good whipping was just what I needed to set me right, and you sent me out to get the switch. You may remember, sir, that I never came back. I saw my chance to escape, and I ran away. This is the first time I have seen you since that day. But I have never felt right about the way I did and I have come back now all the way from my home in Brunswick to take my whipping. Here is the switch."

Of course Professor Cone agreed in the circumstances to let bygones be bygones, and he and his former pupil shook hands and had a good laugh together.

FIVE NEGROES LYNCHED BY A MOB IN FLORIDA

Gainesville, Fla., Aug. 19.—Five negroes, three men and two women, were taken from the jail at Newberry, Fla., early to-day and hanged by a mob and another negro was shot and killed by deputy sheriffs near Jonesville, Fla., as the result of the killing yesterday of Constable S. G. Wynne and the shooting of Dr. L. G. Harris by Bolsey Long, a negro. The lynched negroes were accused of aiding Long to escape.

Poses of several hundred men to night are searching the woods about Newberry, eighteen miles from here, for trace of Long. Further trouble was feared.

Dispatches from Newberry to-night said that the mob that lynched the five negroes was composed of about 200 men and worked quietly and rapidly. After gaining entrance to the jail they took the victims about a mile from town and hanged all on one oak tree. Not a shot was fired, the dispatch said.

The negro shot near Jonesville also was said to have aided Long to escape.

Wynne and Dr. Harris were shot when they went to Long's home at Newberry early yesterday to arrest him on a charge of stealing hogs.

COLLAPSES FOLLOWING HIS EXAMINING TRIAL

Paris, Ky., Aug. 19.—The examining trial of Wallace Freeman, young farmer charged with shooting and killing his younger brother, William Freeman, two weeks ago, was held this morning before County Judge C. A. McMillan. Freeman entered a plea of not guilty and after the evidence was heard he was held without bond to await the action of the November grand jury.

After the trial this morning Freeman collapsed from the result of nervous shock and was taken in an unconscious condition to the Bourbon jail. Physicians were in attendance upon him during the afternoon and his condition is regarded as serious.

LOCKHART CAPTURED AT HOME OF HIS COUSIN

Princeton, Ind., Aug. 19.—Levi Lockhart, charged with killing Policeman Dawson and wounding Chief of Police Hill, of Owensboro, Ky., four years ago, when they pursued him into Spencer county, Ind., for alleged horse theft, was captured early to-day at the home of his cousin, Lee Lockhart, at McKaw Summit, a suburb, after Sheriff Barton and Police Chief Fischer, with a posse of thirty-five, had surrounded the house and seven automobiles had been driven in so their lamps made the entire yard and every window of the house as light as day.

Lockhart, unarmed, came out in his night clothes and surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Purl Fettiager after an hour's delay.

A fall-off of 25 per cent. in the world's wheat crop is reported by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

BRYAN'S CUTTING WORDS TO HUGHES

Regarding Distribution Of Official Patronage.

WORDS WITH BARK ON THEM

Replying To An Attack, Shows Up Candidate Hughes In Bad Plight.

THE CASE OF A GLASS HOUSE

When he was Secretary of State, Mr. Bryan wrote a letter to the Receiver of Customs at Santo Domingo inquiring as to what positions could be obtained for "deserving Democrats." Candidate Hughes quoted this letter in his speeches declaring it "shameful," and the Comptroller comes back at him like a thousand of bricks. Mr. Bryan says he enforced the civil service law to the letter with the employees of the State Department wherever it was in force, but he felt free to reward deserving Democrats whenever it could be done without detriment to the service. Then, after declaring that Mr. Hughes has shown himself prompt in "discharging obligations," he hands it to him thus:

"When he was candidate for Governor Mr. Hughes received the support of the railroads of New York, and he generously repaid the debt by vetoing the two-cent passenger rate bill. He did not describe that as shameful. When a candidate for Governor he received the support of the New York tax-dodgers, the owners of 'swollen fortunes' and he paid his debt by sending a message to the Legislature protesting against the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution. He does not describe that as shameful."

"He is now being supported by the railroads of the United States, and he expects to pay them back by aiding them to escape State legislation and find a haven of security in exclusive Federal control over the railroads. He is being supported by the Shipping Trust, and expects to pay them back by helping them to prevent Government competition. He is supported by the trust magnates, and expects to pay them back by shielding them from punishment for the extortion which they desire to practice. He is supported by Wall street and expects to pay them back by spending American blood and squandering money raised by taxation in order to guarantee profits on speculative investments."

"And yet, with the record which he has made in paying his political obligations at the expense of the public and with the pledges his speeches contain to those who are now aiding his ambitions, he has the impudence to hold up for criticism a legitimate effort to reward competent men for the service which they have rendered to the cause of reform."

This seems to have brought Mr. Hughes to his senses, as he has not referred directly to the matter since Mr. Bryan's pointed strictures. Mr. Hughes, seeming determined to "knock" everybody and everything Democratic, is proving a boomerang and he will soon discover that to a man who lives in such a thin glass house as he does, it is a very foolish performance to throw rocks.

THREE MONARCHS FACE TO FACE AT THE FRONT

Paris, Aug. 19.—President Poincaré had a long confidential conference with King George during the British monarch's recent visit to the Somme front. The visit of the King and President to the fighting line was coincident with the arrival of the German Emperor on the German front.

An order found on a captured German officer gives details of the military review which was held before the Emperor. The order directs that exhausted soldiers be sent to the rear so that the Emperor should see only the best element of the troops. It also directs that those who fought at Verdun should occupy the first ranks.

BEN JOHNSON IS RIGHT ON THE JOB

In Saving Money For the Taxpayers.

DIGS UP SUM OF $282,754

Due Treasury and Was Instrumental in Collecting $719,-

536 Previously.

TOTAL SUM OVER ONE MILLION

Washington, Aug. 18.—Representative Ben Johnson, who has a record for discovering and causing to be collected large sums of money due the Treasury, has within the last few days added $282,754.26 to his record.

According to Mr. Johnson files and forfeitures in some of the courts amounting to $282,754.26 never had been paid to the Treasury. Recently Mr. Johnson called upon Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for the purpose of enlisting his assistance in collecting this money and having it paid into the Treasury.

About three years ago, after very extensive research, Mr. Johnson ascertained that there was owing to the United States Government more than $1,000,000 on account of board and treatment of residents of the District of Columbia in the United States Government Hospital for the Insane. Mr. Johnson says that as a result of his efforts in this direction there was paid into the Treasury of the United States three years ago the sum of $719,536.09.

During the present session of Congress Mr. Johnson has continued his work relative to the local patients who did not pay for their board and keep in the lunatic asylum, and as a result of his work succeeded only a few days ago in having paid into the Treasury on this account the additional sum of $282,754.26. Therefore, Mr. Johnson has caused to be collected and paid into the Treasury on account of the lunatic asylum the large sum of $1,002,290.35.

In addition to this Mr. Johnson has dug up other amounts aggregating considerably more than $1,000,000 and has actually had the money collected and deposited in the Treasury of the United States.

For a number of years the people throughout the country have been taxed to pay part of the current expenses of the city of Washington. About five years ago Mr. Johnson inaugurated a fight in Congress to relieve the people in the States from paying this tax. When he commenced his fight the taxpayers in the States were paying annually about 52 per cent. of the current expenses of the city of Washington. During the fiscal year which ended on June 30 last this proportion paid by the people of the States toward the expenses of the city of Washington had been reduced to about 34 per cent., and the indications are that this proportion will be materially reduced during the fiscal year which will end next June.

PRICE, DOLLAR A POUND, VALUE OF YOUNG GIRLS

New York, Aug. 19.—One dollar a pound is the price actually paid in several instances for immature young girls auctioned off here by white slavers to proprietors of disorderly resorts. Assistant District Attorney Smith, prosecuting the campaign against the "Vice Trust," declared.

"We learned to-day that in one instance agents, for two disorderly houses got into a dispute over the value of a girl who had been put up for sale," said the Assistant District Attorney. "They finally agreed upon a price of a dollar a pound. After that it became a common practice to weigh all girls and announce their weight to bidders."

From men and women now under arrest and awaiting trial Smith has obtained amazing confessions of the workings of the white slave gang.

Not only did they systematically set about to obtain school girls for resorts, but in East Twenty-second street they maintained a house where young girls, sometimes partly and sometimes completely disabled, it is said, were sold to the highest bidder.

Big Storm in Barron.

Ginsow, Ky., Aug. 16.—Thousands of dollars' worth of property was destroyed in this county last night by one of the most terrific rainstorms that ever visited this section of the State. Rain fell in torrents for several hours.

Part of the dam of the reservoir on South Fork, from which the city gets its water supply, was carried away. Practically all the corn in the creek and river bottoms was either washed away entirely or damaged to such an extent as to be worthless. All traffic on the Jackson Highway was at a standstill today, water on the approaches of several bridges between here and Scottsville being past fording.

300 WERE LOST WHEN DREADNOUGHT BLEW UP

Paris, Aug. 19.—The Italian dreadnought Leonardo da Vinci caught fire and blew up in the harbor of Taranto, Italy, and 300 of her crew were drowned, says a Turin dispatch to the Petit Journal. The date of the disaster is given only as a day in August.

The fire, says the dispatch, was discovered in the dreadnought's kitchen and spread rapidly. The captain immediately ordered the magazines flooded and tried to beach the battleship, but one magazine exploded before this could be done. The vessel was turned over on her side and a large number of the crew were thrown into the sea. It is believed that the battleship can be righted and rededicated.

The Leonardo da Vinci was a sister ship of the Conte di Cavour and of the Giulio Cesare and was launched in October, 1911. Her displacement was 22,000 tons and she was 575 1/2 feet long, 91 1/4 feet beam and carried a total company of 907 men. Her main battery consisted of thirteen twelve-inch guns and her secondary battery to stand off torpedo attack was composed of eighteen 4.7-inch guns. Her engines were of 24,000-horse power designed to develop a speed of 22 1/2 knots.

GIRL SWIMS 3 MILES WITH A MAN ON BACK

New York, Aug. 19.—With her brother, weighing 265 pounds, tied on her back, so that he could hardly move, Miss Ida Eleonsky, 17 years old, of New London, Conn., swam three miles down the North river Sunday, and was prevented from finishing her swim to the Battery only by an accident to a rowboat and launch that were accompanying her. The strong tide drove the launch against a barge near the foot of Houston street. The rowboat, in turn, was driven against the launch and carried under it and the barge, but C. F. Scully, who was its only occupant, managed to scramble out on board the launch as his boat was crushed.

Miss Eleonsky, who is to enter college this fall, has been swimming for about four years, and last summer swam from the Battery eight miles down the Narrows, with her hands and feet tied.

The conditions under which she swam Sunday, however, were remarkable. She intended to go from Fifty-ninth street to the Battery. Before entering the water she and her brother were tied together, a strong hemp rope being bound around the waist of both, while his hands and legs were tied as well.

Octogenarian Quits Tobacco.

A. G. Willis, who lives near the Zion church, has been constantly chewing tobacco for seventy years. Two weeks ago was his eightieth birthday and the occasion was duly celebrated. Before the company was dismissed Mr. Willis announced that on that day he had quit the use of tobacco, after having been an inveterate chewer since he was ten years old. He is now apparently in fine health, but he is determined to live the remainder of his life without "chewing and spitting," so to speak. —[Adair County News.]

A Giant Alligator.

Probably the largest alligator ever caught in Louisiana arrived in New Iberia the other day, en route to Avery's Island, where he became the star attraction of the Melbourn game preserve. The alligator, which was captured south of Lake Arthur by F. M. Flory, a Southern Pacific railroad conductor, assisted by several fishermen, measured from tip to tip slightly less than fourteen feet and weighed 547 pounds. Estimates as to his age range from 50 to 150 years. —[New Orleans Times-Picayune.]

YOU SHOULD WORRY, WOODROW

(Portland Eastern Argus)

STORY OF RUSSIA AND HER FAILURE

To Meet Expectations In Year 1915.

INTERNAL NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Gave Her Much Trouble In Her
Effort To Meet War's Obligations.

LITTLE JAPAN TO THE RESCUE

Russia has men enough, food enough, holy zeal enough to conquer a world of enemies. Her preparation for her invasion of Teuton lands was more deliberate and thorough than is generally believed. In her new Commander-in-Chief, Grand Duke Nicholas, she possessed a military genius. Yet Russia failed, could not help but fail; the bureaucratic ban on enlightenment, the wholesale piracy of public funds, the blight of official immorality—all inevitable concomitants of government by assassination—crippled her industrial life—thereby causing the shell shortage—ravaged her splendid energy and rotted her very vitals.

During the first months of the war, three millions of our brown-coated peasants marched singing beneath the banners of God into hostile territory. As each reviewing General swept by them they saluted briskly and eagerly chorused their stirring, "Glad to try, Your High Born Excellency!" While the supply of ammunition lasted they battled gloriously in Galicia, Poland and East Prussia. They overwhelmed one of the most impregnable forts in Europe; they drove hundreds of thousands of their enemy before them. They were the only Entente warriors who overran and held whole regions of Teuton soil.

Then with the first snow that winter came the terrible news of explosions of vast stores of ammunition. "Accidents," said the official reports; "German spies," said those who knew. The songs of victory died down and finally ceased altogether as week after week the events of that disastrous winter became known. With dismay, officers and soldiers at the front feared that the German element was still dominant at court and that the Grand Duke's appointment to the post of Commander-in-Chief had not pleased them. We heard how the Chief of the Corps of Special Gendarmes in Petrograd, which had been ordered to unmask German spies, had been himself convicted and hanged as a German spy.

There was no heavy ammunition. Through hours of despair the peasants waited. Then, while our long lines of field guns remained cold and silent in the snow, the Germans loosed upon us millions of shells which literally blew our soldiers out of their trenches, annihilated them, buried them alive. Trainloads of Russian shells were dragged up to the trenches and frantically unloaded. Many were found filled with sawdust! Other shells were found to be too large or too small to fit the guns.

Consequently, last winter, while the whole allied world looked to Russia to confirm her victories, she could not rally. Germanic bureaucrats had furthermore stocked Russia's factories with German managers and artisans. These withdrew at the first alarm. The factories were left paralyzed. Russia found herself helpless because she had closed the doors of her schools to her children. Those same Jews, coachmen and green grocers, the proletariat foundation upon which Russia's future greatness is to be built, might have saved her in her hour of supreme need had opportunity for education been given them.

To-day Russia's life blood, in the shape of rifles and shells, is flowing in an endless stream of cars from little Japan. Little Japan! who has become the prodigy of nations because patriotism is her religion and her government has placed her children at the feet of the greatest teachers in the world. It is even said that during the Japanese War Japanese soldiers taught the Russian prisoners to read Russian. —[The Forum.]

We Missed a Lot.

The Indians, we are told, had a curious way of selecting names for their little ones. When a baby was born the father would look out of the wigwam and name the newcomer after whatever sight chanced to strike his fancy, which accounts for such cognomens as Rain-in-the-Face, Big Bear, Young-Man-Afraid-of-the-Sun, &c. But think how that scheme would work here in Macon in this good day and time! Think of being introduced to Mr. Peevish-Party-Waiting-for-the-Idle-Hour-Car, or Young-Man-Standing-on-the-Corner-Watching-the-Chickens-Go-By, or Young-Man-Dodging-a-Bill-Collector, or Young-Lady-With-Knee-Watch-Going-Down-the-Pike-4-Treat-Excitement-Prevails, or something out that order. —[Macon Telegraph.]

Train of Water For Border.

Forty new tank cars, fresh from the shops, have been offered to the Government by the Union Tank Line to carry drinking water to the troops encamped along the Mexican border. The tender was made in consequence of the failure of all ordinary Quartermaster's facilities to provide a constant and adequate supply, and in the face of a shortage of from 2,000 to 3,000 tank cars in the Southwestern oil trade.

The cars will be run in a solid train from the shops of the American Cnr and Foundry Company to San Antonio, carrying some 320,000 gallons each trip, and the equipment will remain at the disposal of the Government as long as it is needed. —[New York Sun.]

Will Sloan's Liniment Relieve Pain?

Try it and see—one application will prove more than a column of claims. James S. Ferguson, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I have had wonderful relief since I used Sloan's Liniment on my knees. To think after all these years of pain one application gave me relief. Many thanks for what your remedy has done for me." Don't keep on suffering, apply Sloan's Liniment where your pain is and notice how much you get relief. Penetrates without rubbing. Buy it at any drug store. 25c.—Advertisement.

"Thirteen."

Cheer up—the old "13" hoodoo has been killed dead by a hammer by one Neil Huger, of St. Paul, a mighty hunter for sure. Last fall, the newspaper says, his big game license number was No. 13, and within 13 minutes of the time he reached the deer country, on November 13 he killed a 213-pound buck. All this in spite of the fact that he is handicapped by having only one arm.

Fine Tobacco.

The first crop of tobacco to be ready in this county for housing is probably the one raised by Mr. John Wesselman, on the E. C. Cleveland farm on the Georgetown pike, near this city. Mr. Wesselman recently cut this crop, which comprises six acres, and which will make about 2,000 pounds to the acre. It is of the Holly and Staudup Burley variety, some of it measuring five feet in height. —[Paris Bourbon News.]

JAPAN IS FIFTH IN POPULATION

Among the Nations Of the Earth.

ORIENTAL COUNTRY'S GROWTH

Is Of Some Concern To the United States—Peril Of Immigration.

GREAT JAPAN IS 71,793,078

Japan has been growing in population since the war with Russia at a rate comparable with Germany's, in the year just passed. The expansion of territory following the war contributed some millions, so that the contributed for greater Japan, as now officially declared, is 71,793,078.

But Japan proper contains 53,356,295, making her fifth in population among the world's nations—following China, Russia, the United States and Germany, in order. The density is even greater than in Holland or England. And particularly interesting is the statement of the Census Bureau that the males are in excess—102.14 for every 100 females. That, of course, is contrary to the general rule except in colonies, territory where the stage of pioneer development has not been completed, or in some of our Western States.

With Japan growing at a rate apparently more rapid than any other country except the United States, considering also the limited territory for sustaining her people, no other explanation is necessary to account for the tendency of the Japanese to emigrate. That tendency is of some concern to the United States, and to all the commonwealths or colonies in the Pacific.

At bottom, the great war may be traced to a similar condition as a first cause. The empires have been crowded, at home. There has never been any obstacle to their going elsewhere, of course—the whole world has been open to them, and all countries have made them welcome. But their imperial rulers were not satisfied with this. They wanted very erman under the erman flag. If there was no room within the boundaries of the German Empire, room must be found elsewhere, some "place in the sun." The war has even raised a hope that the home boundaries may be extended by over-running neighboring territory.

The Japanese, as yet, have expressed no such policy. The Government loses no opportunity to acquire outlying territory but, generally speaking, all it asks is that the doors of other nations be not closed to its subjects who seek to improve their opportunities by emigration, notably on our Pacific Coast, notably on our Pacific Coast. And with a growing population the natural desire is bound to become more insistent.

The "yellow peril," which formerly referred to the overflow of the "teeming millions" of China, now instance agents for two disorderly Whether a peril or not, it will have to be reckoned with by all the nations with interests in the Pacific. —[Providence Journal.]

IS IT YOUR KIDNEYS?

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where the danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Residuals of this vicinity are constantly testifying.

Miss Vera Mullenix, Route 4, Madisonville, Ky., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for disordered kidneys and a weak back, and got very satisfactory results. I know Doan's Kidney Pills do all they are represented to do, otherwise, I wouldn't give my name, recommending them publicly."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Mullenix had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

AS TO HANGING HEADS IN SHAME

Mr. Hughes Shown Up in Bad Light.

SOME INSTANCES IN POINT

What Americans Might Think in Making a Comparison of Candidates.

THOUGHTS IN CONCRETE FORM

Mr. Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate for President, is very much disturbed because Mr. William J. Bryan, while Secretary of State, wrote a letter to the Receiver General of Santa Domingo asking for jobs with which to reward deserving Democrats.

"Should not every American hang his head in shame that such a thing occur in the highest department of our Government?" inquires Mr. Hughes.

Frankly, we think not. We have never belonged to that school of political opinion that believed it was a crime for a Democrat to hold a job under a Democratic administration; and we know of no one who is better qualified to determine what Democrats are "deserving" than the one who has been the object of their loyal support in three Presidential campaigns. Mr. Hughes is shocked that a "deserving Democrat" should be appointed to an office, yet he leads a party that for fifty years has fattened at the public crib, and that has regarded the physical possession of the Federal patronage as the most important asset of a national administration.

Mr. Hughes, who professes such a righteous indignation that a Democrat should hold office in Santo Domingo under a Democratic President, should be careful in making the suggestion that Americans "hang their heads in shame."

These same Americans might be tempted to think of a man, who threw off the judicial robes, and left a career on the bench, of distinction and promise, to answer the call of the hyphenates as their choice for President.

They might think of a candidate who contents himself in scolding and petty abuse of party in power without offering a single remedy for the evils which he declares to exist or uttering a single word to show that he has a single constructive policy.

They might think of a candidate for a great office whose temper and tone on the stump would become a crossroads discussion between two candidates for county office.

They might think of a man who seeks election for the Presidency in the highly elevating language that "you couldn't expect a decent protectionist measure out of a Democratic Congress any more than you could expect a revival sermon out of a disorderly house."

They might think of the lone figure in American history and American politics who attacks and abuses and denounces and derides, but has nothing of his own to offer.

They might think of the man who spends hours prating about the dismissal of a Republican census director, and is as silent as a tomb on the great submarine issue because he is afraid to let the people know what he thinks about it.

They might think of the representative of a once great party, who has failed to measure up to any of its ideals or any of its standards.

Mr. Hughes, indeed, trends on dangerous ground when he intimates that the "American people should hang their heads in shame." If they did, it would be because they have such a candidate for President as Charles E. Hughes.

QUEEREST SOCIETY IS THAT OF MISERICORDIA

In the streets of Lethbrum, Italy, may frequently be seen a procession of a dozen men, clothed from head to toe in black, their faces concealed by black calico masks falling to the waist, with two narrow openings for the eyes and surmounted by black, broad-brimmed hats. Black gloves and girdle and a rosary of black beads complete the funeral equipment.

With downcast eyes, what appears like a coffin borne on the shoulders of four of them and preceded by a man carrying a large silver crucifix, they march quickly past, with a reverent mien and in the utmost silence. If, in their progress, the processionists pass a church they raise their hats; if they encounter a priest, they put down their burden and fall on their knees to receive his blessing.

This spectacle has been familiar in Tuscany for four centuries. The black-garbed, black-veiled men are simply engaged in a work of mercy—the carrying of the dead to their grave and of the injured or sick to the hospitals. They are members of the great Misericordia Society, a brotherhood of pity, who give their services to this good work and wear their masks to hide their identity from curious eyes.

Four centuries ago the society was founded at Florence, where its headquarters are, and throughout Tuscany it has to-day no fewer than 70 branches. In Lethbrum alone it has 9,000 members—probably one out of every five of the adult male population, and every member gives his services gladly and gratuitously. —[Pearson's Magazine.]

A World in Miniature.

The insect world represents an unlimited field of life and activity. The number of insect species is greater by far than of the species of all living creatures combined. Although more than 300,000 have been described, probably twice that number remain to be examined. Virtually all living animals, as well as most plants, supply food for these incomputable hordes.

WAR'S CENTER IS VERITABLE HELL

Where Death Is Present At Every Point.

EACH MAN IS HIS OWN LEADER

No Such Terrific Artillery Fire Has Ever Been Developed Previously.

WHOLE TOWNS ARE WIPED OUT

German Trenches Opposite the British Position at Gommecourt, on the Somme Front, Monday Aug. 14 (via Berlin and Sayville, wireless, Aug. 16, from a staff correspondent of the Associated Press).—Half a million British have been engaged in the effort to break the German lines on the Somme front. Often, as in the fighting between Gommecourt and Hebuterne, the British outnumbered the Germans six to one. They have gained ground to a depth of three to five miles over a front of about eighteen miles, but nowhere have been able to break through.

More than ever death has become a commonplace in this most murderous battle of all times. The Germans in the line know that they probably will be killed if their positions are attacked. Trenches are virtually useless, for the heavy British shells widen them into broad channels affording no cover of any sort. The first line usually perishes.

The advancing British foot troops are no better off, because the Germans reverse the process when part of their positions have been captured. After the British artillery have leveled the German trenches, the infantry rushes in, often to be thrown out again as soon as the British artillery ceases fire, which it has to do owing to the proximity of the opposing lines. Thus the battle has been going on for weeks, the opposing forces now gaining at terrific cost and then losing at even greater cost a few yards of trenches.

At present all the fighting by the British is carried on from their Pozieres salient, where their gun fire is unceasing day or night. German officers who were in the Champagne offensive said no such artillery fire ever had been developed previously.

The German fire, too, is terrific. An idea of its intensity may be gained from the fact that on certain British troops German guns threw 1,600 shells in one minute and forty-five seconds, resulting in great slaughter.

Often the British assault dies away before the German second line, from which machine guns pour out streams of bullets which literally cut the men into fragments. At one point the Associated Press correspondent stood within 800 yards of the British trenches near Delville wood. Nearby the Germans had just buried 1,296 British, as full in the firing permitted.

Some 500 British prisoners whom the correspondent saw behind the firing line plainly were still dazed from the shock. They were a sorry spectacle, glad they had escaped from "hell," as they termed it.

The correspondent visited the entire front of the present offensive, and everywhere found from talks with Germans that they were more determined than ever to stand their ground. The men are in capital shape physically, and of easy mind, although they are looking upon death at each instant. An officer pointed out that nowadays each man is his own leader, as it is often impossible under present battle conditions to transmit commands. While the Germans might still plan the actions, the officer said, it was plain that the infantryman, acting upon his own initiative in the presence of death, must save the day.

Back of the German lines within the British artillery range hardly a single house was standing. Embers were still burning in the ruins of two villages as the correspondent passed through. Officers said there were no troops in such places and that the victims were mostly French civilians. Of these the correspondent saw scores of wounded. Whenever possible the Germans removed these civilians, as at Hucquoy. The population of this town was sent out at 2 o'clock in the morning and the bombardment began at 5 o'clock. By noon the entire village was razed. The village of Rancourt met a similar fate. The correspondent saw part of the population rushing for safety and a few hours later looked on the burning debris of the town. British aviators have made several attempts to burn the grain crop, apparently unmindful of the fact that it belongs to French peasants. One aviator, descending to 800 yards from the ground, threw bombs among a harvesting party, killing two French girls and wounding others.

There is no safety anywhere in the zone behind the front. What the artillery does not reach is exposed constantly to the bombs of aviators. While the correspondent was at Bugny eight civilians were killed. Eighteen others were wounded, of whom four died in the German hospital the same day. At Cambrai four persons were killed and two were wounded on the same night. A French civilian pointed out that while the German soldiers have bomb proofs in which to seek refuge the civilians have only cellars. He begged that this be brought to the attention of the British military authorities.

MUCH JUNK IN EUROPE AFTER THE WAR IS OVER

Has anyone thought of the magnitude of the junk business in Europe after the war? There have been squibs and comic drawings about it, but how much serious consideration has it received?

Last year, in these United States of America, $140,000,000 was paid for scrap iron. This is a big and wasteful country, but it cannot be using up material at more than a fraction of the rate prevailing in the war zone. Thousands of tons of iron, not to mention copper, brass and lead, have been shot away at each of many narrow strips of the battle line. The topsoil in the salient of Ypres, on the line north of Arras, on the Somme front, and above all at Verdun, must be so saturated with metal as to be a sort of artificial ore. Surely, in the bitter poverty which will be Europe's portion when she is through with war lords, that resource will not be forgotten.

For that matter it may be that Europe's workers will turn thrones and crowns into "scrap," too.—[Chicago Journal.]

Biggest Statue In World.

The largest statue in the world is now being carved in Japan. It is a recumbent effigy of Nichiren, a Japanese patron saint, cut from a natural granite rock on a hillside on the island of Ishigakubi, or the Cow's Head, in the inland sea of Seto, Japan. The stone image will be 240 feet long from head to foot.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Calron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

BRINGS HEALTHY COLOR TO CHEEKS

Many women are compelled to lie down at frequent intervals during the day. This, of course, is due to weakness, the forerunner of serious ills to follow.

At first there will be great languor, especially in the morning; faintness, dizziness, weakness or sinking at the pit of the stomach. The digestion becomes impaired and appetite is gone. Then comes palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath on any slight exertion, cold hands and feet, headaches, paleness, dark circles under the eyes, a dragging pain across the hips; the memory becomes poor, the disposition irritable and nervous, the least noise or unusual occurrence upsets the nerves.

Disease quickly destroys the complexion, making it yellow or greenish looking, the cheeks become sunken and spots of a brownish hue appear on the skin.

All these symptoms are caused by poor circulation and an exhausting or wasting away of the nerve force. The blood becomes thin and watery and the nerves lack strength.

It has been admitted that this peculiar to women, in most cases start in the stomach; that when digestion is good, the blood is good, the nerves and organs are properly nourished and strength is the result.

In hundreds of thousands of cases, Tanlac has been the means of relieving the ills of women, because it gives strength and tone to the system. Tanlac is a tonic, prepared from roots, barks and flowers gathered in many parts of the world. Testimonials from women who have used it say "It has made me a new woman," "I feel healthy again," "I enjoy my housework" and other like expressions.

Tanlac may be obtained in Hartford at the Ohio County Drug Co.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President—Woodrow Wilson.
For Vice Pres't.—T. R. Marshall.
For Congress—Hon. Ben Johnson.

It is announced from Republican headquarters in Ohio that the Progressives must show they are penitent by producing results at the polls this fall. In other words, by their works only shall they be accepted and known. The door to the inner council will be closed to them until such time as their thorough restoration shall be deemed proper as shown by them forsaking their waywardness and bearing fruits for repentance. Really, their votes is what is wanted.

It is announced that President Wilson will make no speaking tour during the ensuing campaign, but probably will accept invitations to speak at different places. Mr. Wilson, it is said, considers a stumping tour incompatible with the dignity of the office of President. His policies and his record in office are well known to the public. It is quite generally understood that he will make the same kind of President in the future that he has in the past. That is enough.

President Wilson will be formally notified of his nomination to succeed himself at Long Branch, N. J., on September 2. Of course, such affairs, occurring weeks after the actual occurrence, sound like foolishness, but it is the way of political maneuvers. The President has already completed his speech of acceptance. The notification speech will be made by Kentucky's honored and beloved son, Senator Ollie James. It will be a notable occasion.

It is clearly evident that Mr. Hughes is weaker now, so far as his chances of election are concerned, than on the day he was nominated. His public speeches have proven a disappointment, and to no body of men more poignantly than the great mass of the Republican party. He seems to have no settled policy and the ideas he advances form no basis for constructive government. The greatest effort he makes is in denouncing the record and policy of President Wilson. His speeches fall flat. Too much sameness.

We read in a special from Whitesburg, Ky., that prosecutions against blind tigers and boot-leggers are being carried on with vim, and that fines amounting to between three and four thousand dollars and jail sentences from twenty to forty days have been assessed against violators of the liquor laws. There seems to be an awakened citizenship around Whitesburg. This is just what ought to occur in Ohio county and all other sections of the State where blind tigers are holding forth in bold defiance of the law.

While subscribers of country newspapers are paying largely increased prices for almost everything they buy nowadays, they do not seem to think that their county paper is doing anything extra by coming at the same old price. Many of them do not seem to care enough to pay up arrearsages at the old cheap price. This shows a woful lack of appreciation on their part. No business institution is hit harder by increased production prices than the newspaper. Its subscribers should remember this.

In a recent speech Candidate Hughes said:

"This paying of political debts with public office is honey-combing our administrative life. I am opposed to it. If I am elected that sort of thing will have no place in my appointments."

It will become the candidate of a political party noted for its spoils system to indulge in such hypocritical remarks. Since its birth the Republican party has used its office patronage as the very mainstay of its existence. This is a matter of public record. Nobody believes that Mr. Hughes is sincere in this pronouncement. Members of his own party do not want to believe it.

In a speech at Portland, Oregon, last week in which he advocated commercial preparedness for European competition through the agency of a protective tariff, Candidate Hughes said:

"The man who tries to get the better of the public for his private purse is a traitor to the Government. We will go ahead and put these traitors out of business while we build up the business of the United States."

Mr. Hughes seems to have crossed himself up a little here. Who besides the beneficiary of a protective tariff is the worst offender when he "tries to get the better of the public for his private purse?" A high protective tariff benefits nobody except these malefactors of great wealth.

A VOICE FROM KANSAS
ANENT WOODROW WILSON

Former Gov. St. John, of Kansas, who prefaced his remarks by saying he never was a Democrat, said in a recent interview:

"I think Woodrow Wilson will sweep the country for re-election this fall.

"I am basing the assertion on the attitude of the people in Western Kansas. While I was in that part of the State during my recent ninety-days' tour I took occasion to sound out my different audiences on the candidates then looming most largely in the public eye.

"Wilson's Mexican policy, for which he has been so bitterly attacked, is, in my opinion, an element of strength. I am not capable of criticizing the Government's policy. The old plan of tying two fighting tomcats' tails together, throwing them over the clothes line and letting them fight it out, seems to apply forcibly to the situation in Mexico. But Mexico is no scrub, as it was in 1847. It has fourteen millions of people and an advanced civilization in many respects. To whip Mexico into line, as some demand, would be a job necessitating at least two years' time, the expenditure of billions of dollars and probably the lives of 200,000 men. In addition, as an item of expense, would be the formation of a great pension roll.

"What would we gain by such a war? We don't want that territory. The whole proposition is absurd. Taking it as a whole, we never have had a President more level-headed than Woodrow Wilson."

DENTISTS WERE GOOD
LOUISVILLE CUSTOMERS

The Courier-Journal says: Here's why Louisville spends thousands of dollars annually to maintain its reputation as the best convention city in the United States:

Delegates to the National Dental Association, the convention of which was recently held here, bought 1,400 Palm Beach suits from one Fourth-street store.

They spent $400 with another Fourth-street store the first day, $700 the second day and more every other day during convention week.

They bought so much clothing from still another Fourth-street concern that it was compelled to send rush orders for new stock.

Ditto to a medium-sized Market-street store.

Merchants who compared reports after the convention estimated that every one of the 3,200 delegates spent $40 in Louisville, or a total of $128,000.

SHULTZ FOR CONGRESS
ON SOCIALIST TICKET

Mr. J. M. Shultz has been nominated in the Fourth District by the Socialists for Congress to be voted for in the November election.

Mr. Shultz does not expect to be elected, but predicts a large vote all over the country.

He declares that Socialism is the means of preventing war and making possible continual prosperity and the elimination of poverty.

The Government ownership of railroads and other public utilities would be the greatest blessing imaginable, declares Mr. Shultz, and the only solution of the problems that confront the American people.

Strikes will be impossible under a Socialist government, claims Mr. Shultz, and a shorter work day will make possible more time for the working people to study and inform themselves and make better citizens.

He predicts the capture of Oklahoma by his party this fall.

MAJOR WM. OBENCHAIN
DEAD AT BOWLING GREEN

Bowling Green, Ky., Aug. 17.—Maj. William Obenchain, Sr., 75 years old, a Confederate soldier, a member of Gen. Robert E. Lee's staff and a noted educator, died at 3 o'clock this morning of stomach trouble after an illness of several months. He was born in Buchanan, Va. In 1885 he married Miss Lida Calvert, who has written a number of books, some of the most noted being "Annet Jane of Kentucky," "The Land of Long Ago" and "Coverlets." Besides the widow he is survived by two sons, William Alexander Obenchain, Jr., of the Good Roads Commission, Frankfort, and Thomas Obenchain, of Dallas, Tex.; two daughters, Mrs. Val Graham Winston, Dallas, and Miss Cecil Obenchain, this city; a brother, Capt. Francis G. Obenchain, of Chicago, Ill., and three sisters, Mrs. Z. T. Atkins, of Marion, Va.; Miss Cecil Obenchain, of Wytheville, Va., and Mrs. Margaret Dickinson, of Castlewood, Va.

ATTENTION, VETERINARIANS.

By an Act passed by the last General Assembly, approved March 24, 1916, now known as chapter 71 of the Acts of 1916 which regulates the practice of Veterinary Medicine, Surgery and Dentistry in the State of Kentucky, a State Board of Veterinary Examiners was created, which Board shall hold meetings whenever necessary for the purpose of receiving applications for certificate of license or the examination of candidates for such certificates.

All persons who have been practicing veterinary medicine, surgery or dentistry within this State for one year next prior to the passage of this Act and those holding diplomas from recognized veterinary colleges are entitled to a license upon application to said Board and its approval of same and upon the payment of a fee of $7. Such certificates of license shall be recorded in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which licensee resides. And until such license is recorded the holder shall not exercise any of the rights and privileges therein conferred.

After the last day of January, 1917, it shall be unlawful for any person to practice veterinary medicine, surgery or dentistry or branch thereof in this Commonwealth if he does not hold a certificate or license as above stipulated and any violation of this Act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $50, or by imprisonment of not exceeding two months or by both fine and imprisonment.

All applicants for license shall present their diplomas or other credentials as required by Section 3 and 4 of this Act, to the State Board of Veterinary Examiners when filing their applications. Said Board will hold meetings at the places designated below for the purpose of receiving applications. The meetings will begin promptly at 9 a. m., at the following places:

Lexington, Wednesday, Sept. 20, 1916—Phoenix Hotel.

Louisville, Wednesday, Sept. 27, 1916—Seelbach Hotel.

Henderson, Wednesday, Oct. 4, 1916—Kingdon Hotel.

Select one of the above places for your application of license and be on hand promptly.

MAT S. COHEN,
President State Board of Veterinary Examiners.

WAR COSTING FRANCE
$397,000,000 MONTHLY

Paris, Aug. 19.—Official figures issued to-day show that the total cost of the war to the Government of France for the first two years, up to the end of July, was 39,000,000,000 francs (about $7,500,000,000). In the same period of the miscellaneous expenses of the Government were 10,000,000,000 francs (about $2,000,000,000).

The average cost of the war to France has now, the figures show, mounted to 1,987,000,000 francs (about $397,000,000) monthly.

HARTFORD, KY.

WAS DRAGGED FROM BED
BY HAIR OF HER HEAD

Woman Makes Charges of Intimidation Against Hopkins County Men.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 18.—A band of men visited the home of Mrs. Allie Warner Roush, near White Plains, she claims, broke down the door of her home, dragged her from her bed by the hair of her head, and threatened to kill her and to burn her out, and also threatened to kill her son, Jewell Warner, if she appeared in court at Madisonville against G. V. Putman, whom she had arrested on a charge of breach of peace. She also stated in the affidavit the boy was told at the point of a gun if he appeared in court a warrant would be sworn out for him for carrying a pistol and shooting on the public highway.

Mrs. Roush came to Madisonville and had warrants issued for Will and Cliff Putman, Able Brothers and Everett Knight, charging them with confederating and banding together, and also asked the court to put them under peace bonds.

The men were brought from White Plains and placed in jail by Deputy Paul Lacy, and all made bond yesterday, and to-day will have their examining trial before Acting County Judge Fry Bailey.

Mrs. Roush is the former wife of Marshal Jake Roush, of White Plains, and resides near that town, and she claims G. V. Putman came to her home and insulted her, and she had a warrant sworn out, charging him with breach of the peace, and when his trial was set for hearing illness prevented him from coming to Madisonville. The night before the day set for the trial Mrs. Roush claims four masked men came to her house and dragged her from her home in her night clothes. She stated to County Attorney G. W. Sybert all the men were masked, but in the scuffle she managed to jerk the masks from the faces of the men and recognized them. She came to Madisonville next day and had the warrants issued, and the men were immediately arrested.

Held Under Bond.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 18.—Cliff and Will Putman, Able Brothers and Everett Knight, arrested yesterday on warrants sworn out by Mrs. Jake Roush, of White Plains, charging them with breaking into her home, dragging her from bed by her hair and threatening her life if she came here and testified against "Sonny Putman, whom she had arrested on a breach of the peace warrant, were held to the grand jury under $300 bond. The examining trial attracted considerable attention and a large crowd filled the courtroom.

RUSSIA'S PRISONERS
PAST THE 358,000 MARK

Petrograd, Aug. 19.—Between June 4, when the Russian offensive was inaugurated, and August 12, General Brusiloff's forces captured more than 358,000 men, the War Office announced to-day.

The report follows:

"According to final reports received, the total captures by the troops of General Brusiloff during the operations from June 4 to August 12, in which period the fortified lines of the Austro-Germans stretching from the river Pripiet to the Roumanian frontier were taken, were as follows:

"The officers and men, including combatants and noncombatants, and cannon and machine guns captured by the troops of General Kaledine numbered 2,384 officers and 107,280 men, 147 guns, 459 machine guns and 146 bomb and mine throwers; by General Letchitzky, 2,139 officers, 100,578 men, 125 cannon, 424 machine guns, 44 bomb and mine throwers and 35 powder carts; by General Sakharoff, 1,967 officers, 87,248 men, 76 guns, 232 machine guns, 119 bomb and mine throwers and 128 powder carts; by General Scherbachoff, 1,267 officers, 35,739 men, 51 guns, 211 machine guns, 29 bomb and mine throwers and 129 powder carts.

"Thus the total captures were 7,757 officers, 350,645 men, 405 guns, 1,326 machine guns, 335 mine and bomb throwers and 292 powder carts. In addition there were taken a large number of rifles, 30 versts of small-gauge railways, telegraphic materials and several depots of ammunition and engineering materials."

Prisoners on the Indiana penal farm are being paroled as a result of requests of circus men and others, who find it difficult to secure labor, due to the great prosperity prevailing in the country.

J. B. TAPPAN,
Jeweler and Optician,
3414 Hartford, Ky.

The report comes from Olanton that on last Sunday night, just about the time the singing commenced at the Methodist Church there, somebody fired a pistol shot through the front window of the residence of Mr. J. B. Canan. The lower sash being raised, the ball passed through two thicknesses of double strength glass and into the opposite wall. Fortunately nobody was hit or hurt. Evidently it was the work of one of the rowdies with which that whole section of country seems to be infested.

Rev. S. E. Harlan, pastor of the First Christian Church here, went to Horse Branch, this county, last week to hold a series of meetings, but was compelled to close out Friday night on account of disturbing circumstances. It is alleged that drunken rowdies caused trouble and it was deemed best to discontinue the meetings. It is a shame that such conditions should exist in this enlightened age in any community. The good people should take this matter in hand at once and have these law violators summarily dealt with.

Misses Ruth and Lella Petrie were the hostesses of a very enjoyable theatre party at the Star last Friday evening. Afterward the guests were served with delicious and seasonable refreshments by Mrs. J. S. Glenn's Sunday School class in the Methodist church dining room. The following lads and lassies were present: Misses Lella Glenn, Mary Bean, Evelyn Thomas, Lourene Collins, Burke Napier, Annie Rae Carson, Victoria Barnard, Sally May, Lella Petrie and Ruth Petrie; Messrs. Parke Taylor, Glenn Tinsley, Edward Duke, Goebel Crowe, Larkin Griffin, Randall Watterson, Russell Pirle, Berry Dudley Walker, Gayle Taylor and McDowell A. Fogle.

DEPOSITORS PAID IN FULL—NEW RECORD SET

Special Deputy Banking Commissioner G. B. Likens has drawn checks in full payment of all claims against Dundee Deposit Bank, in liquidation. The checks are being mailed to-day and represent the remaining 20 per cent, eighty per cent, having heretofore been paid. The bank was placed in the hands of the Special Deputy Banking Commissioner on the 15th of January, and in adjusting all claims in eight months Mr. Likens has established a new record, as the credits of no closed bank in the State have been paid in anything like the short time consumed in this case.

The remaining assets, which include the banking house and lot, furniture and fixtures and sundry unpaid notes, will be liquidated for the benefit of the stockholders. These notes are still in charge of Mr. Likens at the Citizens Bank and will be collected promptly as possible.

Dies At Sunday School.
Harrodsburg, Ky., Aug. 21.—James Philip Coleman, for about fifteen years superintendent of the Sunday School at Hopewell church, this county, dropped dead Sunday morning just after he had finished the opening devotional exercises at the Sunday School. He had apparently been in his usual health, but a sudden attack of heart failure ended his life before those in the room could reach him. He was about 75 years old and had never been married. He leaves numerous relatives.

WALTER HUBBARD DEAD AT CHICAGO HOSPITAL

A telegram was received in Hartford Friday morning from Mrs. Lucy Hubbard, announcing the death of her son Walter at the Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago, where he had been a few days before from Ogden, Utah, where he was stricken with an affection of the glands of the neck, which paralyzed his right arm. He had been in ill health for several years and had been sojourning in the West on this account. When he went to Chicago his mother went there also to be with him. She got there only about a day before he died. He knew his mother, but could not talk above a whisper and soon passed quietly away. The remains of Mr. Hubbard were interred in Glen Ellen cemetery, Chicago, where his father, Hon. E. C. Hubbard, was buried.

Walter was born and reared in Hartford and was about 45 years old at the time of his death. He was never married. He was well educated and a graduate of the Louisville School of Law, but on account of his precarious health he never felt able to engage continuously in his chosen profession. His father and two sisters, Mabel and Pauline, died a number of years ago. He leaves his mother and grandmother, Mrs. Q. C. Shanks, the latter of whom is 96 years old.

Married.

Mr. Wilson Brooks, of Orlando, Fla., and Miss Sallie Hewlett, of Pleasant Ridge, were married at the residence of the bride last Thursday evening, Rev. A. S. Pettie, of Whitesville, Ky., officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hewlett. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Brooks, Whitesville, and a prominent business man of Orlando. The newly wedded couple will visit around among relatives and friends a few days yet and start for their Southern home next Monday.

Returns To Henderson.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 21.—Chas. Wyne, charged with the murder of Dr. M. C. Dunn, a prominent physician at Henderson, two weeks ago, and who has been held in the Owensboro jail for safe keeping since the alleged crime, was taken back to Henderson to-night by Deputy Sheriff Roy Eastin. The transfer was made, it is said, on Wyne's own motion. He says he does not fear being confined in the Henderson jail. He will be tried in September and his defense will be the "unwritten law."

COLORED INSTITUTE WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

A Most Interesting and Profitable Session Was Enjoyed By All Present.

By far the most successful colored institute ever held in the county, and one of the most successful ever held in the State, closed here last Friday. It was composed of all the colored teachers of McLean, Muhlenberg and Ohio counties and was conducted by Prof. Frank L. Williams of St. Louis Mo. Supt. Miss Amy M. Longest, of Muhlenberg county, Prof. R. M. Stroud, Supt. of McLean county, and Supt. Shultz of this county, were present at most of the sessions, lending encouragement to the teachers.

On Tuesday evening Prof. Williams gave a very eloquent and forceful lecture at the court house on the subject, "The Value of Life." On Wednesday evening a very entertaining program was given at the Methodist church at Heaver Dam.

One very commendable feature of the meeting was that during the entire week not a member of the institute was ever tardy or behind time one minute.

A feature of the meeting seemingly enjoyed by all present was a feast of twenty delicious watermelons, donated by some well wishers of the city. The appreciation of the teachers was expressed by a rising vote of thanks to the kindly disposed friends.

Prof. Williams, by his gentlemanly and dignified manner as well as by the masterful way in which he handled and presented his subjects, endeared himself to all his hearers and clearly demonstrated the fact that he, like Booker T. Washington, must be ranked among the world's great students, orators, thinkers and scholars.

All in all, it was a great week to all those concerned and should be conducive of much good for the edification and uplift of the colored race in this part of the State.

Farm Hands Leave.

Mr. Sterling, Ky., Aug. 21.—Over 300 negroes have left Montgomery county within the past two months. Practically all of them have gone to Ohio, where, it is said, they have all secured work at from $2 to $3 per day in factories.

Quite a number of white citizens also have left this city within the last few weeks and have located elsewhere. The reason given is that labor is in demand at much higher wages than can be made on Kentucky farms, as factories are running overtime and in some cities in Ohio are working night and day shifts.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY FOR POPULAR CITIZEN

Mr. Sam Rowan died at his residence about three miles west of Hartford last Saturday about noon. He was chopping out some corn when he began feeling ill and returned to the yard at his home. He sat down on the grass and called for a drink of water. Just as it was brought to him he fell over and expired. It is thought that some species of heart trouble was the cause of his death. He was about 38 years years old and a highly respected citizen. A wife and two children survive him, also two brothers and three sisters. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Butler Rowan, who preceded him in death several years.

Funeral Occurred at Goshen

The funeral occurred at Goshen church Sunday and was largely attended. The funeral sermon was preached by his pastor, Rev. Napier, the other ceremonies being in charge of the Woodmen of the World, of which order he was a loyal member.

Although the summons was sudden he was prepared to go. His memory will be cherished in the hearts of many friends.

CAPT. DEWEES ACCEPTED BY THE MEDICAL BOARD

Washington, Aug. 18.—Capt. J. M. DeWeese, who was rejected as physically unfit at Fort Thomas and lost his rank of Captain of 3 Company, Third Infantry, took an examination at the War Department today. He was found to be "of good physical condition" and "physically qualified for the duties of a company officer" by the Army Medical Board, Maj. Brooke making the report.

Capt. DeWeese was taken to the War Department by Senator James and Representative Ben Johnson, and after a conference with Secretary of War Baker he submitted to the rigorous examination of the Army Board. Capt. DeWeese's home is at Hartford, but at present he is a resident of Louisville, being attached to the office of Collector of Internal Revenue Mayes.

Note From Capt. DeWeese.

St. Thomas, Ky., Aug. 20.—Editors Hartford Herald.—Perhaps it would interest you and others of my friends to know that after rejection by the Medical Board here, I went to Washington, D. C., where I was sent before the Surgeon General of the Army by the Secretary of War. I was examined by Major Brooke, of the Medical Corps, who reported to the Adjutant General of the Army that I was sound in every way and physically qualified to serve as a line officer.

Through a combination of circumstances I may not get back my former command, but it is a source of satisfaction to know that I was accepted to the War Department.

I am especially indebted for many courtesies to Congressman and Mrs. Ben Johnson, Senator James and Mr. Douglas D. Felix, Clerk of the District of Columbia Committee, during my short stay in the Capitol.

Respectfully,
J. M. DEWEES.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

THE UNITED STATES

COULDN'T BE STARVED

Figures Show That Our Food Production Runs Ahead of Population.

One worry of the fighting nations need not keep the United States awake, the National Chamber of Commerce finds. The report of the Committee on Statistics and Standards, recently published, proves that no matter how severe a blockade might be drawn about the country it would be impossible to starve American stomachs into capitulation.

It would be necessary to get along without importations of coffee, tea and cocoa, but all these are classed by the committee as luxuries.

The most impressive point, the committee says, is that while the population of the country has increased 200 per cent. in half a century its food production has been increasing in that same period from 250 to 3,000 per cent in prime commodities.

The most important product—wheat—has increased in production 500 per cent, and corn 270 per cent. The production of rice shows the greatest increase, being 3,000 per cent. Oats and Irish potatoes have increased in production 475 per cent, and 250 per cent, respectively.

The importation of luxuries is held to be entirely a question of taste, and our extensive use of them an evidence of our ability to gratify this taste and not a matter of necessity. In case of stress we could well get along without them, as was generally done in the South during the Civil War, which is a different proposition from not raising enough wheat for our own use and trying to get along without that.

A definite proof of surplus production of agricultural products beyond our needs, according to the report, is the fact that each year we carry from the former harvest into the succeeding harvest from 20 to 25 per cent, of the yield of the principal cereals.—[Chicago Herald.]

A Candy Catch.

After a long day spent on the broiling bank of a little stream in quest of anything that would swallow the hook, a Glenwood avenue man came wearily home.

Resolving to make the best of his experience he assumed an attitude of swelling pride as he displayed, lonely on the string, a single little fish.

"Ain't that the candy?" he cried. "Candy is just what it is," the wife replied, dryly.

"What do you mean?" "That's what I call an all-day sucker."—[Youngstown Telegram.]

OUR GREAT EXPORTS AND FINANCIAL GROWTH

At the outbreak of the war a high official of the British Government said the United States owed Great Britain $5,000,000.

This estimate—which included all American securities held in England—was regarded as too high. Since then American bonds and shares have been returned to this country in such volume that the amount abroad is now an almost negligible quantity.

A notion of the stupendous exports of merchandise from United States during the fiscal year just ended may be gained from the reflection that their value would nearly meet the entire estimated indebtedness of this country to British capitalists and investors at the outbreak of the war. In round figures our exports for the twelve-month amounted to $4,500,000,000.

Needless to say these stupendous figures break all records. During the same period imports exceeded $2,000,000,000, so that the total of the country's foreign trade was more than $6,500,000,000. Imports consisted, for the most part, of raw products and materials for manufacturers, and while explosives and other war material contributed to swell the exports, the volume of these is

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

so great that the war material might be eliminated without important effect upon our "favorable trade balance"—the excess of exports over imports. The tremendous growth of this country in financial power as a result of the stupendous exports of the last two years is indicated in the readiness with which securities have been repurchased from Europe, the great influx of gold and the vast loans taken here. The forthcoming French loan of $100,000,000, backed by American banking capital and an ample amount of sound foreign securities, will doubtless be quickly absorbed by American investors.—[New York Herald.]

HEALTH WITHOUT COST

It costs nothing to stand erect and breathe and walk properly. It costs nothing to have fresh air in your home.

It costs nothing to masticate one's food thoroughly; this insures better digestion and less of the expensive, highly flavored food is consumed; money and health are saved.

It costs nothing to cleanse the teeth thoroughly after each meal. It so dolog you may save not only dentists' bills, but surgeons' and doctors' bills.

It costs nothing to choose the kind kinds of foods that give proper employment to the teeth and thus save dentists' bills.

It costs nothing to choose the kind of food that the body needs.

It costs nothing to keep out of your body substances like alcohol that are known to be injurious.

It costs nothing to adjust your diet so that the more expensive foods are not taken in excess.

It costs nothing to avoid eating between meals any sweets that have high fuel value and are liable to irritate the stomach.

It costs nothing to feed the mind with wholesome mental food instead of trash or morbid literature that easily decomposes and poisons your whole life.—[Irish World.]

Her Silence.

Young Aldrich was waiting in the parlor for his loved one to appear, when her small brother came in and took a seat.

"Well, Chester," said Aldrich, "what did your sister say when you told her I was waiting?"

"Why, she didn't say nothing," replied the small brother. "She just took a ring off one finger and put it on another."

The True View.

The late James J. Hill was a man of buoyant optimism.

"Failures," he once said in an address to railwaymen, "failures are always pessimists. Successes, on the other hand, are optimists. Which is right?"

"It's easier to slip down hill than to climb up, but the view, remember, is at the top."

The devil may be to pay, but if he'd give receipts many would find they have paid him in full many times.

MORE THAN 5,000,000 PRISONERS NOW HELD

Is the Various Camps Of Europe —Germany Has Greater Number.

New York, Aug. 18.—More than 5,000,000 prisoners, double the number of men engaged in any previous war that the world has known, now are confined in prison camps of the hellish nature, according to Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, who arrived here on the Danish steamship Oscar II, from Copenhagen. Dr. Mott left here in May for Russia and has visited the prison camps of nearly all the countries at war.

Dr. Mott said that of the prisoners Germany has the greatest number, approximately 1,750,000. Russia, with about 1,500,000, comes next, then Austria with 1,000,000, followed in order by France, Italy, Great Britain and Turkey. Russia's prisoners, he added, rapidly are increasing, more than 400,000 having been added to the camps since the beginning of the last Russian drive. In six weeks, Dr. Mott added, 230,000 passed through Kiev.

"I found," Dr. Mott said, "that reports as to the treatment prisoners of war were receiving have been greatly exaggerated. In all of the countries the prisoners receive virtually the same food and care that the inmates of the respective countries do. Everything possible is done for their comfort and their health."

"We have forty-five American secretaries working among the various armies and I hope to increase this number shortly. The work is the general army Y. M. C. A. work, looking after the men's mental and physical wants. We have been accorded all the co-operation and assistance we could reasonably expect by all the countries except Turkey, where, as yet, we have not been permitted to enter, and our efforts are not only well received, but appreciated."

D. A. Davis, formerly of Washington, D. C., is in general charge of the American Y. M. C. A. work on the western front. Mr. Mott said, and A. C. Harte is in charge on the eastern front. Mr. Harte returned with Dr. Mott for several weeks' vacation.

"Killed in Action."

Norwalk, Aug. 15.—"Killed in action."

This laconic message, scribbled in pencil across the front of an envelope returned to Norwalk to-day, told tersely the fate of C. L. Whitely, 26 years old, of this city, who enlisted in Company 3, Thirtieth Battalion, K. H. C., First Canadian Division, when the Dominion went to war with Germany.

In May he wrote to Probate Judge A. E. Rowley for a copy of his birth record, and it was sent to him. To-day Judge Rowley received the unopened envelope which told of Whitely's death.

Two New Postmasters.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The President to-day signed the commission of Ernest Birkhead as postmaster of Hartford and that of Otho Dexter as postmaster of Beaver Dam. He took this action at the request of Representative Ben Johnson, a caller at the White House this morning.

Kentuckian Dies Of Grief. Paris, Ky., Aug. 19.—Richard Freeman, 65 years old, died at the Massie Hospital here as the result of grief and the shock received when he witnessed the killing of his youngest son by his elder brother. The tragedy took place in this county on August 5.

The aged father was the sole eye-witness of the killing.

DAILY MUSICAL TREAT AT STATE FAIR
BY NATIELLO'S ROYAL HUSSAR BAND

Marianne Conway and Signor Ernesto Natiello.

THIRTY-FIVE high-class musicians, including the famous bandmaster Signor Ernesto Natiello and noted soloists and instrumentalists, constitute the Natiello's Royal Hussar Band that will be the big feature at the Kentucky State Fair September 11-16. The management was very fortunate in securing this band, for there is none better in the country. All the men will be attired in white Hussar uniforms that give the band a distinction all its own.

Both the band and the soloists carry out Signor Natiello's long-known motto—"Give the people the music they want." This gives satisfaction all around and pleases everyone. The programs, which are changed daily, include both popular and classic selections.

The soloist with the hand is Marianne Conway, one of the foremost concert sopranos in the United States. She has sung with the Boston Fiddlers, Theodore Roehrkildt's Orchestra, Rich. Max Hornig's Orchestra and others of similar standing. Her voice is said to be very fine and has a range that enables her to sing all classes of pieces.

A feature that is attracting much attention wherever the Natiello Band appears is the Una-Fon, a new instrument. It is played like a piano and has a rich tone that can be heard at great distance. This band is the first to include the Una-Fon in its equipment.

Leader of Ability.

Ernesto Natiello, leader of the celebrated band of thirty-five pieces bearing his name, which will be a feature of the Kentucky State Fair, was born in Italy in 1878. Six years later his father, Signor Antonio Natiello, came to America and was appointed bandmaster on the United States Ship Brooklyn. He made Ernesto cornet soloist in a band he had organized in Philadelphia.

In 1889 Ernesto returned to Europe to finish his musical studies. Attaining the highest degree of perfection on the cornet, young Natiello came back to the United States as soloist with the famous Band of Milan. After an American tour, he returned to Naples and enlisted in the Italian army, serving as cornetist in his regiment for six months. Then he again came to America and joined a prominent band, shortly after which he recruited a musical organization of his own.

NEW SADDLE HORSE STARS

To Prance for Prizes in Banner Rings at Coming Kentucky State Fair.

WHEN the pavilion gates swing wide for the entrants in the four greatest horse events listed for the fourteenth annual Kentucky State Fair, to be held September 11-16, it is surmised that not one of the proud high-steppers in the Championship Five-Gaited Saddle Horse ring formerly known as the Commissioner of Agriculture's Five-Gaited Saddle Horse Stake, held Friday night of the fair—the Kentucky Championship Roadster Stakes to be shown Tuesday night of the fair—the Kentucky Championship Fine Harness Stakes to be shown Wednesday night of the fair and the new feature, a Championship Three-Gaited Saddle Horse stake, which will be shown Saturday afternoon of the fair, will be recognized by horsemen or a horse-loving public as ever having performed on the tanbark oval of the great Kentucky show ring. While the list of nominators includes many of the former "stand-bys" of the fair it is well known to those posted in horse history that a phenomenal number of the most noted horses of the past decade owned by them have departed from Kentucky borders, among the list being R. E. Moreland's beautiful Cascade, which has been sold to a Pennsylvania horseman; Powhatan Stock Farm's Richieu King, Kalamazoo Farm's brilliant prize winner, Rectina, who has also been shipped to Pennsylvania; W. G. Shropshire's matchless Hazel Dawn, which was sold two seasons ago to Cuba's president, and her stable mate, Jack Barrymore, who was recently shipped to California as show horse at the Exposition; W. S. Nicol's Kentucky's Queen; E. D. Moore's My Idol, sold into New York; A. G. Jones & Son's Princess V, who has also been shipped to Pennsylvania; P. W. Ray's Sunflower, sold into Pennsylvania; Mrs. R. T. Lowndes' famous Mary Yandell Fox and Beautiful Kentucky's Choice, and Boh Moreland's Nicol Plate, which has been sold into Missouri.

The above named have all figured in the celebrated Kentucky State Fair and other noted rings. In the fine harness and three-gaited class departed notables of horseflesh are Gosalp, champion three-gaited mare; Clara Bell, champion fine harness mare; Winchester, champion fine harness gelding; Ethel Mae and Gladys Conter, champion road mares, and Ebony King, champion road mare.

Increased Purses.

Instead of offering the former prize awards in a flat sum in connection with the four features mentioned above, the State Fair management has announced the more tempting plan of listing all the entry moneys in a lump sum and adding to it for the Champion Five-Gaited Saddle Horse stake $1,000 in cash and a handsome silver trophy; for both the Kentucky Championship Roadster stake, and the Kentucky Championship Fine Harness Stake, $500 additional to the entry money, and in the new three-gaited saddle horse stake the bonus added to the entry money will be $200. As this stake is new to State Fair history, the entrants in same will, of necessity, be new to horsemen. In the fine harness stake the prospects are likewise for new blood. In the roadster stakes it is anticipated that the greatest lot of entries ever shown in a like event will be listed for the contest. Those who have purchased nominations above are:

FIGHTING THE HESSIAN FLY

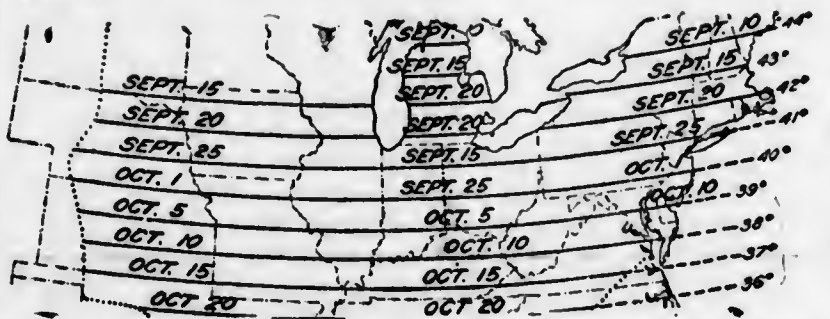

THE LIFE OF THE HESSIAN FLY (From the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture)

The life history of the Hessian Fly is shown above. The life of the adult fly is but a few days, probably but a week or less, and the great mass of the flies will appear at about the same time. If the wheat is sown after the flies appear by the time the wheat is up they will be gone and the plants escape the attacks of the fly.

Experiment stations urge you to sow wheat late in order to escape the Hessian Fly. Experience has taught you that the best yields are secured from plants that enter the winter with strong, healthy growth.

Solve this Problem by seeding late and hastening the fall growth by the use of 200 to 400 pounds of fertilizer containing 2% to 3% of available ammonia. Acid phosphate alone will not give the necessary, quick, strong, healthy growth. If the fly does not happen to be present this year, the good effects upon both the wheat and the grass seeded with the wheat, will repay many times the cost of the added ammonia. You cannot afford to be without this Fly Insurance.

Read Farmers' Bulletin 640 (U. S. Dept. of Agriculture) which says: "The application broadcast of some quick-acting fertilizer containing a large percentage of phosphate, made as soon as general infestation is apparent will cause the plants to tiller more freely and give them sufficient vigor to withstand the winter, and thus increase the number of healthy stems the following spring. . . . While it may seem 'far fetched' to bring forward as a preventive measure the enrichment of the soil, a fertile soil will produce plants that will withstand with little injury attacks that will prove disastrous to plants growing on an impoverished or thin soil. This is because a fertile soil will enable an infested plant to tiller freely, and these tillers will have sufficient vitality to withstand the winter and send up head-producing stems in the spring."

Plant On or After These Fly Free Dates (From U. S. Dept. of Agriculture)
If drought prevails, the seeding date should be longer delayed

UNCLE SAM'S EXPENSIVE GUEST

Uncle Sam has been playing host for over 150 years to one of the most menacing pests the country has ever known. It has cost him enormous sums. Its damage has been so great that the farmers in some localities have given up the growing of the crop it thrives on until it dies out. But it likes the treatment accorded here and seems disposed to hang on. It cares nothing that it has outlived its welcome, but instead plods on year after year, and season after season taking the profits of our labor in the wheat fields.

What are you doing to stop the Hessian Fly? Your co-operation with your neighbor means as much to you as to him, and even if it didn't owe a duty to your community to help in this eradication.

Remember these three things—sow late, prepare the ground well, and add available plant food to your soil. Give the young plants a late start to be free from the fly, but also give them a chance to obtain food by applying at least 200 pounds of fertilizer containing 2 to 4 per cent ammonia so that they may have a good growth before winter sets in.

"Swat the Hessian Fly" is the battle cry of the farming members of this big family of Uncle Sam, and won't you do your part to make the echo that much louder?

Nearly As Much Second Season.

"The increase in yields of the crops following the one to which fertilizer is applied is often nearly as much as that secured in the crop fertilized. In one experiment at the Ohio Station when fertilizer was used on wheat, it caused an increase in yield of the other four crops in rotation, of 86 per cent of that secured in the wheat crop," says J. F. Hudson, a well-known farm writer. "Fertilizers applied to the corn crop will not be entirely used up and will benefit the crops following especially when applied broadcast or drilled in evenly where the field is in sod."

Half the Battle Before Planting.

With wheat as with many other crops, the proper treatment of the seedbed and the supplying of plant food to carry along the crop with a good start and a steady growth, may be considered half the battle. As wheat is not cultivated after seeding, whatever cultivation is necessary must be done before the seed is put into the ground.

Double Your Profits From Wheat.

Millers pay more per bushel for high quality wheat than they do for that which only grades number four or five, according to a Chicago Board of Trade Member. Ohio Experiment Station Bulletin 243 shows that high quality wheat and large yields go together, thus giving the farmer double profits. The experiments reported in Bulletin 243 show a yield of 8.45 bushels of wheat per acre with 51 per cent plump and 49 per cent shriveled kernels, where no fertilizer was used, against a yield of as high as 34.15 bushels per acre of which 94 per cent of the kernels were plump and but 6 per cent shriveled when the wheat was fertilized.

As You Feed—So Shall You Reap.

"If I expect my horses to pull, I must feed them, and feed well. If I expect to grow 50 bushels of wheat to the acre, I must feed my wheat the same way," declares Murel Boaz, of Johnson county, Indiana. Last year Mr. Boaz raised 1,500 bushels of wheat that averaged 46 bushels to the acre. This year he is going to get over 50 bushels per acre, according to present indications.

Wheat Yields, Beef Production.

"Those 50 to 55 bushels to the acre wheat yields don't 'just grow' any more than does a load of prime finished baby beefs. The cattle are never allowed to lose their calf fat, and are fed liberally of a balanced ration from the day they are born until they go into the car for market," says Clyde A. Waugh, in Farm and Fireside. "Record wheat crops must have plenty of a balanced plantfood ration to give them a quick start in the fall, to enable them to resist disease and insect attacks, to make enough growth in the fall to cover the ground before winter sets in, to start out early in the spring and to make a straight standing, early maturing, bumper crop of first quality."

No One Would Work a Sick Horse.

No one would think of working a sick horse, yet there are farmers in almost every community who are continuing to work their sick soils, and with the usual result of poor crops. Fertilizing will help some, and lime is the corrective agent, but for the best results both should be used. With wheat, when limestone and fertilizer are used on the same land the yield is larger than when either one of these is used alone.

RETURNS FROM RECENT PRIMARY GIVE RESULTS

In the Different Races, Embracing Candidates Of the Two Dominant Parties.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 18.—The returns from the Seventh Appellate District Republican primary are all in, and give Flem D. Sampson, Barbourville, a plurality of 850 over A. J. Kirk, of Paintsville, for the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals. Sampson received 9,561 and Kirk 8,711.

The retirement of Judge Sampson from the circuit bench in the Thirtieth district will give Gov. Stanley an appointment. Judge S. B. Dishman, of Barbourville, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Eleventh, is being talked of as likely to get the appointment.

Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell, in the Seventh; Congressman Harvey Helm, in the Eighth, and Congressman W. J. Fields, in the Ninth, made runaway races for the Democratic nominations. Congressman Cantrell carried every county in his district over R. E. L. Murphy, of Lexington; Helm carried every county in the Eighth, except Casey, where his opponent, Senator C. F. Montgomery, resides, and Fields carried every county in the Ninth, excepting Rowan, the home of J. W. Riley.

Powell county made no returns in the Congressional race in the Seventh, excepting to certify Cantrell's majority as 129. He received 9,043 in the other counties to 892 for Murphy. Cantrell's majority in the district being 8,280.

W. J. Manly, of Lagrange, the only Republican candidate in the Seventh, received 1,741 votes.

In the Democratic primary in the Eighth Congressman Harvey Helm received 8,921 to 3,993 for Senator Montgomery, a majority of 5,828. In the Republican primary L. T. Neat won over R. L. Davison, 2,724 to 2,042.

In the Ninth District Congressman W. J. Fields, Senator J. B. Hiles, of Bracken, and J. W. Riley, of Morehead, were entered for the Democratic nomination. Fields received 10,940; Riley 2,785; Hiles 729, giving Fields a plurality of 8,155 and a majority over all of 7,126.

IT OFTEN OCCURS JUST AS HERE RECOUNTED

The wife of a Western hardware dealer answered her door bell and found a peddler on the front porch. He was selling the "greatest potato slicer ever invented," and he gave a demonstration that convinced her at once of its merit, and she handed over a quarter to the peddler.

When her husband came home she showed him her bargain, and told him what she paid for it. Imagine her consternation when he said:

"I have a gross of these down in the store, and sell them for 10 cents—when I find a purchaser."

The woman always has the last word, and her's was to the point. "Then for goodness sake, why don't you let the people know what you have for sale?"

Moral—Advertise in your home town folks, in your home town paper, and then your own wife won't ever "get hung."

SUNSHINE SPRINGS.

Aug. 21.—This section has been blessed with some fine rains, breaking a drought of almost three weeks duration. Crops and pastures have been greatly benefited.

Calhoun, who was sent to the asylum at Hopkinsville some weeks ago, is much improved and thinks he will soon be able to return home.

Elias Perch, 24-year-old son of Andrew Perch, near Jingo, is very low with typhoid fever and complications. His recovery is thought to be doubtful.

Miss Molliehorn, of this place, is very ill. Her father is awaiting her recovery to move to Greenville, Ky., where he has shipped his sawmill and where he has a large body of timber to cut for Bond Bros.

GULF STORM DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED AT $2,000,000

Corpus Christi, Tex., Aug. 21.—The loss of life from the tropical storm which struck Corpus Christi and ten adjacent South Texas counties on Friday night, was placed at thirteen to-night, including nine members of the crew of the small freighter Pilot Boy, which foundered off the Aransas Pass jetties. Two Mexican men and one Mexican woman were killed at Katherine, a settlement on the King ranch, near Alice, Tex., and one Mexican was reported killed at San Diego. Both towns are from fifty to sixty miles inland.

The total damage in this section of which Corpus Christi bore the heaviest part, was estimated at $2,000,000. This includes devastation of a large portion of the lower coast's cotton crop, which was ready to be picked. Damage at Corpus Christi was estimated conservatively at $500,000.

The storm-stricken area extends about 150 miles along the lower gulf coast from Corpus Christi to Brownsville, reaching inland from thirty to fifty miles.

LITERARY HYPOCRITES.

Here's a Writer Who Frankly Admits
He's One of the Clan.

How many of us if we were really honest could make a list of great books that we have tried to enjoy and couldn't rise to?

We have for our own part a greater sin than that on our conscience. There are a number of books that we habitually pretend we have read which we have never read at all. They are great books, we suppose. At least we've heard a lot about them and read a lot about them, and people who assume to know say they are great books. Some of them we have tried to read and couldn't read, but we have pretended at one time or another to have read all of them. Here is our list of shame:

"Tom Jones." We have tried to read it four times and could never get five pages into it.

"The Vicar of Wakefield." We have attempted it at least six times and taken the count in the first round every time.

"Dante's Divine Comedy." We have been going against the Cary translation, which we hear is a good one, at least once a year for twenty years, and we can't get interested in it. Yet up to the present moment we have always pretended that we had read all of it and liked it.

"Don Quixote." We have read a little of it, and we know all the usual things that are said about it, and we even wrote some stuff about it one time, saying all the things that are usually said about it, for which we got $23, but we don't really like it. It puts us to sleep; it seems long drawn out and clumsy to us.

"Boswell's Life of Johnson." We never read any of it. But we have pretended to and have pretended at times to quote incidents from it and have got away with the incidents.

We have always pretended that we were familiar with Walt Whitman's poetry, but as a matter of fact we never read anything through, excepting "When Lilacs Last in the Dooryard Bloomed."—Don Marquis in New York Sun.

THE TREE ON THE ROOF.

An Old Building Custom to Propitiate
the Pagan Gods.

Did you ever stop to think why a bit of ornament in the form of conventionalized fruit, grain or flowers is almost invariably added to the gable of a Gothic building and very frequently to the gable of any other type of building? Do you know why the lightning rods of our grandfathers were branched at the ends like little trees and why the old fashioned Scandinavian, Danish and German contractors contrived to fasten a branch of a tree or an ear of corn to the topmost peak of a house that has progressed so far in the course of construction that the rafters are in place? Usually the contractor laughs sheepishly when he is asked about the matter, giving no other reason than that his father always provided the birds with some grain or offered them a green branch to rest in.

The fact is that the birds have nothing whatever to do with the custom. It is purely religious in its significance and entirely pagan. It had its beginning before Christianity was "inflicted on the barbarians of the north." The gable of a building was exposed to both wind and lightning, so the gods must be propitiated. For Wotan there was a small evergreen tree and for Thor there was a bunch of flowers. If the favor of the god had been invoked while the house was still incomplete, the ceremony must be finished the day the house was done by the burning of the little tree or the withered flowers. Then a bunch of grain was tied to the gable to feed the white horse of the death god, so that he would hasten on his journey without stopping at that particular house.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Homemade Gas.

Spanish peasants living in the cork oak region use homemade gas obtained from cork refuse. As described by one authority, the process consists in filling several large tin-kettles with the waste bark and placing each in turn over the fire during the evening, burning the volatile gas as it escapes from the spouts. The carbonized residue forms the fine black-brown pigment known to commerce as "Spanish brown."

Kansas Woman's Busy Day.

With the continued shortage of help the women have been taking a hand in the fields. One young woman, who came to town last evening for a band concert, had plowed corn all morning. After dinner she did a fair-sized farm washing and then, as recreation, took a sixty-mile auto ride while her clothes were drying. —[Hiawatha Cor. Topeka Capital.

BEAVER DAM.

Aug. 21.—Mr. Walter Brown, son of Perry Brown, of Butler county, while at work in the mines at Graham, Ky., was caught between two coal cars Saturday and was so badly hurt that he died Saturday night and his remains were brought to Beaver Dam and taken to Cool Springs church Sunday afternoon for interment. He was 32 years old and is survived by his wife.

Marvelous Child Swimmer.

Newport, Ky., Aug. 19.—Miss Frances Farrell, 11 years old, of Dayton, Ky., successfully made a trial swim from the float of the Cincinnati gym boathouse to the L. & N. bridge to-day in exactly forty-eight minutes, which was just one minute better than the time made by her sister, Elizabeth, who acted as pacemaker. The distance is three miles and a half.

Killed By His Wife.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Aug. 17.—Roy Pettit, 25 years old, was shot and killed by his wife on a downtown street to-day. Pettit, who was night clerk at a local hotel, was stopped on the street by his wife, who fired five bullets into his head. After she was arrested Mrs. Pettit declared she killed her husband because "he sought the company of others too much."

COUNTERFEITING PLOT OF GREAT MAGNITUDE

New York, Aug. 19.—A conspiracy to manufacture and circulate $1,000,000 in counterfeit silver certificates and United States Treasury notes, was frustrated here by William J. Flynn, Chief of the Government Secret Service, and several of his assistants. Eight arrests were made after raids on a house at Grant City, Staten Island, and one on East Ninth street, this city.

A complete counterfeiting outfit was found, consisting of photographic apparatus, lithographic presses, electrotyping and etching tools, paper and colored inks. Two of the men taken into custody were operating this plant, it was said.

Secret service men, brought here from Scranton, Penn.; St. Louis, Cincinnati and Washington, had been "shadowing" the suspects some time, according to Chief Flynn.

Customers Go Dry.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Fifteen "bootleggers" who were fined $50 each were out on the streets to-day with pick and shovel. They seemed to be in excellent spirits and were recognized by many of their customers, who now miss the other spirits that once flowed so freely.

A Clean Mop.

He—if I call pa "pop," why can't I call ma "mop"?

She—if you do, she'll wipe the floor with you.—Judge.
